Waring Selected For 'Golden Deeds' Award

TOM WARING has been chosen to receive the 1955 "Golden Deeds" award of the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

The award will be presented to Waring Monday, May 23 in a banquet meeting at Mountain Lake House, Marshalls Creek.

This is the seventh "Golden Deeds" award presented by the local Exchange. Previous winners were: Rev. Harold C. Eaton, Maj. May Adam, Dr. Nina Price, Luther Hoffman, Clifford Gillam, Frank Michaels.

Waring was named to receive the award, club spokesman said, for his outstanding service to the community at large with particular emphasis on his interest in and promotion of athletics for the youth of the community.

Tickets for the banquet are available at Don Summas Barber Shop, Paul Lloyds Sporting Goods Store, Ray Mansfield tailor shop and Harry Ohlitz Golf Shop at Shawnee Inn.

During the past few years, Waring has encouraged scholastic efforts among students in local high schools.

Waring is a musician, a songwriter and master of ceremonies. His early career was centered in the activities of the Waring Pennsylvanians, and the choral works of the group now led by his brother, Fred Waring.

Famed for his music, friendliness and assistance to those who need him, Waring has won a spot in the hearts of hundreds of persons who live in the Poconos, an Exchange official said.

West Germany Bolsters North Atlantic Alliance In Paris

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—Sovereign West Germany bolstered the North Atlantic Alliance today with 50 million people and a commitment to be a reliable partner striving for peace and freedom.

The German Federal Republic joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member in an historic ceremony at the Palais de Chaillot, the organization's headquarters.

This marked a major defeat for Soviet foreign policy. It climaxed a six-year effort to enroll the Germans in the community of free peoples.

West Germany plans to field armed forces of 500,000 men trained for atomic war. The chief power will rest in an army of 12 divisions, linked with the forces of six other NATO members through the Western European Union. The Germans are expected to be ready for combat by 1959.

Despite the Russians' defeat, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles warned the NATO foreign ministers that basic Soviet policies have not changed. He said the west must not relax its guard against Soviet aggression.

Former enemies and former allies alike welcomed Germany as their newest partner almost 10 years to the day after the Nazi surrender in 1945.

One by one, foreign ministers of the NATO powers hailed the decision of the Bonn Republic to side with the Atlantic community in the cold war.

West Germany officially became the 15th NATO member at 10:33 a.m. when Chancellor Konrad Adenauer took his place at the NATO Council table. At the same hour, the black, red and gold West German flag was raised at NATO headquarters, at the military Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe just outside Paris, and at Norfolk, Va., the headquarters of the Supreme Allied Command, Atlantic.

In Washington, the U. S. Senate confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of James B. Conant, U. S. high commissioner in occupied Germany, as ambassador to the newly sovereign government.

Herbert Blankenhorn, director of the Political Department in the Bonn Foreign Ministry, was appointed West Germany's permanent representative of the NATO Council.

The photos that violated the ban were of John Wesley Wable, convicted phantom slayer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, as he was being led through corridors to and from a courtroom for sentencing.

The court ruled that the photographers and Johnson teamed up to violate the ban in instructions from the publishers and Bernhard.

The defendants contend the court ban violates their rights under the Constitution of the United States.

Convict Victim Of Stabbing
NORRISTOWN, Pa., May 9 (AP)—A convict was stabbed to death in the prison yard of Graterford Penitentiary today while prisoners gathered for a baseball game between the prison team and Villanova University.

Warden Charles G. Day said the victim, Nathaniel Abbot, 28, of Burlington, N. J., was found at the far end of the yard with deep chest wounds. He was pronounced dead at the prison hospital.

Leader Issues Challenge To Duff

HARRISBURG, May 9 (AP)—Gov. George M. Leader tonight challenged U. S. Sen. James H. Duff to a "face to face" debate on television and radio on the subject "how shall we finance the future of Pennsylvania."

Duff, in a statement telephoned from his office at Washington replied promptly: "If they will admit that everything they said in the last statement are complete falsifications, I might consider it."

The governor put forth the idea of a public debate as the result of a series of statements made by the two on the subject of Leader's half-billion dollar tax program, built around a classified income tax at rates ranging from one to six per cent.

"As everyone knows, I believe firmly in the program which I have submitted to the Legislature," Leader said in a statement. "Sen. Duff apparently holds strongly to his views."

"Let us each put our case before the people in a television and radio debate or debates, face to face, and in manly fashion."

Duff said in his statement tonight on Leader's challenge for a debate that "everything" in Leader's reference to him in last Tuesday night's speech "was false."

In another tax development, Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, disclosed both Republicans and Democrats will get together in a joint caucus tomorrow night to receive a general explanation of the administration's budget.

Readinger termed the purpose of the meeting as "educational."

"We will have people there to answer questions and then we'll have a general discussion," he said.

On hand will be Andrew M. Bradley, budget secretary; Dr. James C. Charlesworth, secretary of administration; Henry Leader, the governor's legislative secretary; and Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen.

"The major purpose is to make available any information on taxes or the budget that is requested," Readinger explained.

Meanwhile, the House reversed a vote taken two weeks ago and approved a bill to make every car owner in Pennsylvania carry some type of emergency warning device as a safety measure. The count on reconsideration of the first vote was 135-35, sending it to the Senate.

In other action, the Senate again put off a final vote on legislation permitting the sale and lease of a large tract of state forest and game lands for construction of an aeronautical experimental base.

The land, located in Clearfield, Cameron and Elk counties, would be sold to the Curtiss-Wright Aeronautical Corp.

Ike Agrees To Meeting

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower has agreed to meet with the heads of state of the Soviet Union, Britain and France in the near future on ways to ease world tensions, it was reliably reported tonight.

Diplomatic informants said Eisenhower has agreed to a request from Britain and France for such a meeting. They said his reply would be communicated to the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at its meeting tomorrow.

Earlier British officials said a Big Four meeting at the summit on East-West problems in Europe was virtually assured.

Scholle Testifies In Lamb Case

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The president of the Michigan CIO, August "Gus" Scholle, testified today he has heard broadcaster Edward Lamb express anti-Communist sentiments on a "thousand occasions."

The 36-million-dollar Coleman project was started a year ago on the west side of Columbus Circle between 58th and 60th streets. The completed project will include a 20-story office building and a large exposition hall. It was about half completed.

The auditorium floor had been blocked off and the pouring of fresh concrete began. An area of about 60 by 80 feet had been filled.

The frames to receive the concrete were supported by four-by-four beams spaced six feet apart.

A superintendent on the job, Franklin Yeaple, said it was possible the vertical supporting beams had not been braced properly.

Yeaple, 58, said the cave-in from a structure overlooking the scene. He told of the ear-splitting rumble that cut through the routine mid-afternoon hubbub on the big construction job as the collapse occurred.

Avery Quits As Head Of Montgomery-Ward Board

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The reins of Montgomery Ward & Co., tightly held for 24 years by Sewell L. Avery, today passed into the hands of John A. Barr.

Victorious over Louis E. Wolfson in a proxy battle, Avery, 81, resigned as chairman at a special meeting of Ward's directors. The directors promptly named Barr, 47, to take Avery's place.

Barr has been with the nation's second largest mail order house since 1932 and he believes its prospects are brilliant.

"Ward's future is almost unmatched," Barr recently said.

"One reason is our very sound financial position, which gives us an important tool to realize the potentialities in the field of retail distribution."

In the managerial realignment Edmund A. Krider, 42, the president, resigned. He pledged Barr "my full support", but added he "may not continue as a director and 'my only plans are to take a little vacation'."

Avery will remain as a director, but his action in resigning as chairman brought to an end an active, spectacular and sometimes stormy business career in Chicago dating back to 1901. It was in that year that he joined United States Gypsum Co.

When the Gypsum Co. turned in a remarkable earnings record under Avery's leadership, J. P. Morgan & Co. brought Avery over to run Ward's in 1931. Avery turned Ward's poor financial record into a good one, but he refused to expand during the post World War II period.

Avery's nonexpansion policies, plus difficulties he has had in getting along with other executives, led to a fight for control of the company this year. The opposition group was headed by Wolfson, 43, Florida industrialist and financier.

At the annual stockholders meeting April 22 Wolfson admitted he had failed to gain control. While the final report on the voting won't be known until May 13, Wolfson has acknowledged he didn't get more than three places on Ward's nine man board. Ward's management says he got two.

In a resignation statement Avery said Wolfson "was ingloriously and decisively repudiated by the stockholders."

Avery also said, "I leave the chairmanship with the company in a sound financial condition. In every way it is prepared to take advantage of the opportunities ahead under the leadership of John Barr, who has served the company well for the past 23 years."

In New York, Wolfson said in a statement:

"In the last four years under Mr. Krider's presidency, Montgomery Ward sales and earnings have steadily fallen off. I have made the statement publicly many times that Mr. Krider must be replaced. His resignation is the first fulfillment of the Wolfson program."

"On the other hand, I am glad that Mr. Avery is remaining on the board because I sincerely believe that the directors will benefit from his years of experience and knowledge. I must express admiration for his decision to step down from the chairmanship, however, and I regard it as an honorable conclusion to a long and fruitful career. The daily burdens of operating a great organization such as Montgomery Ward are heavy and it is only right that they should rest on the shoulders of a younger man."

Supreme Court Refuses Action
WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to rule on the right of a widow to sue an Iowa cemetery for denying burial to an American Indian killed in Korea.

The 5-3 majority took special pains to say that the high court's 4-4 decision in the same case last year provided "no basis for any inference" that the justices were divided on whether the United Nations Charter supersedes the U. S. Constitution.

One issue raised in the widely publicized appeal was whether the Iowa Supreme Court had flouted the U. N. Charter in denying the GI's widow the right to sue the cemetery for damages. The charter was involved since the soldier was part of the U. N.-Command fighting in Korea.

Lengthy Railroad Strike To End Tomorrow
WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The 57-day-old Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike, one of the longest walkouts in rail history, will end Wednesday morning with unresolved issues to be decided by a neutral referee.

Negotiators, dogtired from almost continuous day and night bargaining over the weekend, agreed on the settlement plan this morning.

Documents signed just before noon call for rail traffic to resume Wednesday on the L&N and four allied carriers which also have been crippled by the strike.

However, L&N's headquarters in Louisville, Ky., said the line's passenger service will not resume until next Monday.

W. Gavin Whitsett, assistant to the vice president in charge of traffic, explained that all cars with

Level Charges Of 'Muddling' In Program

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Democrats in Congress today launched two inquiries into the Eisenhower administration's handling of the Salk polio vaccine. Some of them charged "muddling" and confusion are causing public alarm.

Democratic Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, however, said he felt reassured after a "profitable" meeting with Secretary of Welfare Hobby and Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele, Clement, who headed a delegation from the conference of state governors, declared:

"I am very optimistic that the Salk vaccine will stand as an effective weapon against polio."

These repercussions came as the U. S. Public Health Service, headed by Scheele, set up machinery for quick stage-by-stage release of Salk vaccine "frozen" by Scheele over the weekend. The nationwide program of inoculating school children came to a virtual standstill pending this safety check by federal inspectors.

The House Banking Committee called Scheele for questioning Wednesday and invited Mrs. Hobby, who has over-all charge of health activities, to testify also. It was not certain whether Mrs. Hobby would appear.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) said he wanted to find out why Scheele reversed himself and halted mass vaccinations only a few hours after telling the committee last Friday the program should continue.

Spence praised Scheele as a "good public servant, doing the best he can in a tough spot." But he said the half in vaccinations "has caused a lot of apprehension among parents" and "we think we are entitled to an explanation."

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) announced the Senate Commerce Committee, which he heads, will start an investigation next Monday into what he called "muddled confusion" in federal handling of the vaccine.

Magnuson said in a statement: "If we are not convinced that standards and procedures are sufficient, we will immediately initiate legislation to halt its unregulated distribution in interstate commerce."

"By setting the date ahead one week we are giving the agencies involved sufficient time to work out the solution themselves. If they don't, the Congress will have to step in."

Magnuson expressed fear of "black marketing" in Salk vaccine. So did Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). Kefauver said he would introduce legislation freeing all vaccine, except that contracted for by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and putting it under ration control.

The administration takes the position that the vaccine can best be distributed through the present voluntary system. The White House has said, however, it will ask authority to buy up commercial supplies if necessary to make sure every child gets his share.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee joined in rapping the administration's handling of vaccine problems. He declared Mrs. Hobby is "capable" and that President Eisenhower "is not without responsibility for the actions of his agent, Mrs. Hobby."

"Suppose the investigation reveals that the vaccine, as manufactured, is unsafe," Celler said in a statement.

Some Kids Receive Shots

PITTSBURGH, May 9 (AP)—While antipolio inoculations were virtually halted across the nation, several hundred Pittsburgh children received shots today.

They are part of a group of 8,000 youngsters slated to receive the shots in a continuing research program under the supervision of Dr. Jonas Salk, developer of the vaccine.

The research project is separate from the mass inoculation program. It is part of Dr. Salk's effort to bring the vaccine up to 100 per cent effectiveness.

The vaccine used had been tested in Dr. Salk's own laboratory.

Variety Program To Be Held In Junior High Auditorium

EAST STROUDSBURG Junior High School Auditorium will be the scene of a variety show, "Hi, Neighbor," on May 19 and 20 at 8 p. m.

The show will be produced by Mrs. Karen Roth, well-known entertainer and director of The Roth Dance Theater in the community. Mrs. Roth and members of her dance group will appear in this production, and she has announced that plans have been completed for the appearance of a talented guest star on the program.

A highlight of the show will be a "mystery men's dancing company." Stars of this number will be well-known local persons. It promises to be the "hit" of the evening.

The Stroudsburg Junior Woman's Club, The Day Care Training School PTA and the members of Mrs. Roth's dance school have established committees to assist Mrs. Roth with this production. These committees are: Advertisements, George Cort; tickets, Mrs. Wood; posters, Mrs. Griggs; ushers, Mrs. Harry Rider; costumes, designed by Karen Roth with Mrs. William Graham assisting; scenery, Mrs. Perry Stearns and Mrs. Harold Creck; properties, Mrs. Walter Wyckoff; make-up, Mrs. Pearl Walters and Mrs. S. M. Monatt; stage hands, Harry Rider, Charles McMahon and Martin Ellsweig; sound, Joseph Webster and John Meunier of WVPO; lighting, through the courtesy of Camp Tamiment and Harry Andrews; and publicity, Mrs. Charles Boltz. Also assisting from the Day Care School PTA are Mrs. Walter R. Strunk and Mrs. Walters.

Technical advisors are: Allen Roth, Elwood German and Mrs. Charles McMahon. Dr. William Graham is serving as accompanist and assistant producer of the show. Mrs. Martin Ellsweig will be stage manager and prompter, and she is also writing several of the lyrics for the show.

Proceeds of the show will benefit the Day Care Training Center. Tickets are now on sale from members of the Stroudsburg Junior Woman's Club. Tickets are also available at Wirt D. Miller's, Park Market, Scavo's Barber Shop, A. B. Wyckoff and LeBar's Drug Store.

Walter Stem

Former Local Teacher To Head Staff

WALTER STEM, former science teacher in East Stroudsburg schools, has been named chairman of the Department of Science in the South High School, Valley Stream, N. Y.

Stem left East Stroudsburg to accept a teaching position in the Valley Stream school system last year.

South High School is a new, 1,800-student building now nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy this Fall. It will house grades seven through 12 and is one of four secondary schools in the city.

Stem will head a six-member science teaching staff, supervising all work in grades seven and eight; general science in grade nine; biology, physics, chemistry and physical science in grades 10 through 12. He will also do teaching in the field of chemistry.

Stem is a graduate of Dartmouth College and has taken additional work at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and Union College in Schenectady, N. Y.

He has taught at Brigham Academy, Bakersfield, Vt.; the local high school and at ESSTC. Stem may also be appointed to the South High School coaching staff as a junior varsity coach before the start of the next term.

Elbe Veterans Wine, Dine With Russians In Moscow

MOSCOW, May 9 (U.P.)—Nine American veterans of the 1945 Elbe River line-up with the Russians whirled around Moscow today—winning, dining and sightseeing. They exchanged good will toasts with Russian soldiers. One toast was: "We hope our children never again have to fight as we did."

After a three-hour luncheon at the Red Army Club, Byron L. Shiver of Lakeland, Fla., said he joined in expressing the peace sentiment with a Red army veteran who has four children. He noted that the American visitors' families include 17 children.

William Weissel, Cincinnati engineer, said, "We think we made some real progress here today for international friendship." Shiver and Elijah R. Sams Jr. of Pinnacle, N. C., agreed.

The U. S. veterans of World War II reached Moscow by plane soon after midnight for a five-day visit. Tonight they were guests at a performance of the ballet, "Swan Lake." Tomorrow night they will go to an American Embassy cocktail party. U. S. Minister Walter Wamsley will give it in the absence of Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

The Americans say they are taking at face value the Russian soldiers' statements that they want peace with the United States.

Joseph Polowsky of Chicago, who heads the group here, took the lead also in offering toasts. Weissel, Sams and Shiver joined in.

Weissel said: "We had the feeling we made a good try to recover the comradeship on the Elbe 10 years ago and felt that our Russian hosts were sincere on their side, and we made good friends."

Shiver added: "We told them we were here to try to create friendship and that our group contains families with 17 children. The Russians asked us why we did not bring our wives along."

The Americans spent most of today sightseeing by bus. They asked if they could visit the Kremlin, a collective farm and the Stalin auto work here. Their Soviet hosts promised they would try to work such things into the program.

Western Powers Seek Big Four Meeting With Soviet Russia

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—The Western Powers, with West Germany added officially to their defensive alliance, decided today to ask the Soviet Union to a Big Four conference to ease tensions in Europe.

State Adjutant General Seeks Aid Of Guard

HARRISBURG, May 9 (AP)—Pennsylvania's adjutant general looked today toward using members of the state National Guard to supply information on statewide economic conditions to government leaders.

"Members of the National Guard form a vast network of humanity covering the state and as such are capable of providing the Commonwealth with valuable information on regional economic conditions," said Adj. Gen. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr.

Biddle expressed hope that "Gov. (George M.) Leader will accept my plan to have the guardsmen tip us off on conditions in the state as they see them."

The new Pennsylvania military head pointed to the 20,000 guardsmen under his command as a "group of men from all walks of life with the ability to see things first-hand in their areas and tip the state off to trends."

He also looked to the possibility of guardsmen sometimes offering suggestions that could result in solving particular economic problems on local levels.

"These national guardsmen are well aware of employment trends in their communities many times well in advance of the state government and passing that information on quickly can mean a lot," he said.

Such a system between the governor, department heads and the guardsmen would bring a "closely knit operation to work for the betterment of economic conditions in the state."

Biddle promised Leader he would work with the chief executive and the Commerce Department in efforts to bring new industries into the ailing coal regions.

Foreign Ministers May Agree

By J. M. Roberts
Associated Press News Analyst

Reports from Paris indicate strongly that, when the Big Four foreign ministers meet in Vienna this weekend they will pass directly from completion of the Austrian treaty to consideration of a full-dress conference on European settlements.

French sources appeared confident the treaty would be cleaned up in short order, although the British and Americans still were cautious, remembering the last-minute monkey wrenches thrown by Molotov on other occasions.

Soviet authorities, though still bitterly critical of German's affiliation with the North Atlantic Alliance, continued to talk of negotiated settlements, and West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer predicted a period of conferences.

There was a suggestion of compromise in the air between the British view that the European conference should be conducted by the chiefs of state and the American stand that all preliminary work should be done at the foreign minister level. One outcome might be a brief meeting of the prime ministers and the President to give the foreign ministers a sendoff. That would be akin to the procedure often used by the foreign ministers and their deputies.

Secretary Dulles indicated, however, that the United States will move in all of this with extreme caution. He said the Austrian treaty would represent an important change in Russian policy, but made clear he accepted it as a tactical change, not strategic. He reminded that it was Russian procedure to zigzag toward a fixed goal, pausing to regroup her forces when necessary.

Adenauer ascribed this necessity to the new force aligned against the Communists by the Paris accords which admitted West Germany into NATO and provide for her rearmament.

That the diplomats were entering a period of movement was emphasized by Russian Foreign Minister Molotov's willingness to leave a Warsaw conference with his satellite foreign ministers in order to meet the British and French foreign ministers, Harold Macmillan and Antoine Pinay, and Dulles in Vienna.

The Russians and the satellites U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were higher.

Today the average held unchanged at 3164.50 with the industrial component up 40 cents, railroads down 50 cents, and utilities unchanged.

Stocks Show Slight Gains For Day

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—The stock market failed to make progress today after a promising start.

Prices were higher most of the day, although the bulge wasn't very great, but near the finish there was a gradual retreat.

The market as a whole showed gains that went to around 3 points while losses came to about 2 points.

Steels were unchanged to higher, motors were mostly lower, rubbers higher, aircrafts mixed, distillers higher, radio - televisions, higher, coppers mixed, chemicals mixed, railroads lower, oils higher, airlines mostly lower, and motion pictures higher.

The market seemed to ignore most news, such as record high steel operations and high railroad earnings, and to pursue a cautious course.

That was much the situation last week when the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 50 cents on the week but gained 50 cents Friday.

Today the average held unchanged at 3164.50 with the industrial component up 40 cents, railroads down 50 cents, and utilities unchanged.

There were a few more losers in the list—498 down as against 472 up out of the 1,218 individual issues traded. There were 70 new highs and 16 new lows for the year recorded.

Vaccine and Impatience

One of the ingredients of the Salk polio vaccine is patience.

It was the long, painstaking, try-and-try-again research of Dr. Jonas Salk and his many assistants that produced the formula used by drug manufacturing houses in making the serum which, eight or nine times out of 10, will save a possible victim from this crippling disease.

It has been the same with every life-saving, disease-killing vaccine, or drug. It took a long time, after penicillin was developed, to get it on the market, available to all who needed it, at a reasonable price. The same with cortisone, ACTH and many others.

But the Salk vaccine seems to have a dramatic appeal far surpassing that of any other new development in the medical field. This probably is because the disease strikes primarily at children. And because no discovery of its kind ever had such a spectacular send-off.

There is a certain amount of human nature, then, in the impatience of parents, and others, over a supply which does not, instantly, provide for the inoculation of everybody.

This accounts, we think, for much of the current excitement.

It also accounts, in part at least, for the almost frenzied eagerness of some politicians to get the Government into the vaccine business. A politician can sense a wave of public sentiment sooner than anyone. And he seldom overlooks an opportunity to make something of it.

It may be that distribution of the vaccine has not been precisely what everyone would wish it to be. Some doctors may abuse their privileges—some in every group do. And the supply obviously is not sufficient to inoculate everybody at the same time—there wouldn't be enough doctors to do the job anyway.

But whatever shortcomings may exist in the program, there is no evidence to show that passing a law (which would take time) and creating Government machinery to handle this problem (which would take time) could cure any of this. Experience would indicate the reverse.

We think the best assurances of fair and effective use of the vaccine lie in the integrity and high purposes of the scientists who developed the vaccine, the medical profession, local health authorities and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. And, most of all, in public opinion and patience.

Challenge to Fear

Henry Ford II's talk to newspaper publishers in New York actually was a primer of up-to-date capitalism.

His theme: "What Nation Ever Had It So Good?"

Instead of the scare words of scarcity, his definitions were based on optimism and progress. And he underscored them by announcing his company will spend 625 million dollars more in the next three years on new property, plants and equipment.

All this is refreshing contrast to gloom talk based on the unaccountable fact that continued prosperity seems to frighten otherwise sane citizens.

It doesn't frighten Mr. Ford.

Nor is "automation" a worry word to him. He sees technological progress the life force of what he calls our "incentive-for-everybody system."

This sort of enthusiasm, this lifting of sights, is good for the country.

More leaders, from both management and labor, could profit by looking ahead this way, instead of burying themselves in fears of the past.

George Sokolsky Says...

Our Elementary Education Behaviorist Attitude Without Proper Discipline

A young boy, William Blankenship, Jr., walks the streets and is shot down by another boy, Frank Santana.

These boys are unknown to each other. There is no quarrel. There is no feud. There is no mistaken identity. It is wanton murder with no provocation.

These are high school boys, the murdered boy an honor student, the murderer backward and a truant.

These are the cold facts and beyond them is New York City which has become too large, too unruly and too complacent. There is shock at this outrageous murder; there is sympathy for the heartbroken family. But no constructive reexamination of the school system, no study of the teen-age uniformed gangs that roam the streets is made.

The fundamental question must be, why have the uniformed teen-age gangs been permitted to be organized? Why have they been permitted to grow and thrive? These boys who wear black leather jackets and blue jeans, with insignia and metal marks of distinction, where did they originate? Are they small boys and girls playing soldiers or are they being directed by adults who use them?

Gangs are not new in big cities. Back in the days of the Irish immigration, the Five Points gangs, the Hell's Kitchen gangs and others developed in the poverty of our worst slums. Later, the Italian gangs appeared, the Mafia, the Black Hand, the Paul Kelly gang, etc. The Chinese kept their gang wars to themselves, the quarrels being over narcotics and the control of laundries and chop suey houses. The Jewish gangs under such characters as Kid Twist and Gurrah and Lepke interrupted the peace of our city.

But these teen-age gangs are more vicious, more ruthless, more absorbed in sex and less criminal than unmoral. The teen-age gang is largely Puerto Rican and Negro, although no racial problem is involved. The Puerto Ricans are the newest immigrants and are not yet generally assimilated in the American mores. In time, they will be assimilated as other immigrant groups have been.

The process of assimilation has, in the past, worked best in the public school system. Immigrants from 50 nations came to New York, speaking a variety of languages, bringing their own customs and traditions, and eventually most of them were molded into good Americans. But this process takes time and dedication.

The weakness of the current situation is that the accepted notion that all children can be kept at school up to the age of 18. This is obviously incorrect because the teen-age gangs prove that at various age points certain children can absorb no more book learning; they become so restless that they seek physical activities. They may not get "working papers" until they are 14. They turn to fun of a kind that ends in felonies.

In a city like New York there are a number of vocational high schools which could offer these boys and girls an outlet for doing rather than learning, but for these "problem" children, this outlet is insufficient. They need to get jobs, to work for pay, to have money in their pockets. The assumption that all children ought to remain at school until they are 18 or even 16 has not proved out in enough instances to warrant a study of those who are mentally "blocked." A boy with sideburns and a mustache and an overpowering desire for feminine admiration may become a dangerous citizen if continued captive in a classroom. Compulsory education can go too far.

For children who come from families in which both parents work or from immigrant homes in which the parents are undergoing adjustments to a new and difficult environment, and in which the language in the home is different from the language of the community, the school must assume the role of an assimilative agency, moving the child out of an alien environment into an American environment without destroying the respect of the child for the parent.

The current behaviorist attitude toward elementary education leaves many children without the restrictive disciplines which they need during a period of adjustment. The child contrasts the disciplines of the family with the laissez-faire of the school system and decides that the school is a place where he can get away with anything. His impulse is to push his freedom as far as possible.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Field Marshal Pibul Songgram of Thailand played golf with President Eisenhower this week and the stories say "they did not keep accurate scores after the first nine."

(That's one way to help keep things peaceful and brotherly... More wars are started by keeping by keeping or pretending to keep scores on golf links than anywhere else.)

Made quite an interesting picture, a President of the U. S. and a top leader of Thailand chasing a little white ball over the open country, with both agreeing that the true meaning of "freedom" is a three-hole lead, that an "aggressor" is a fellow who talks while you're trying to sink a putt and that "a broader aid program" means an agreement to concede a stroke a hole.

Deep in the woods we can fancy Marshal Pibul chucking "Ble, you can't get me out of this even with the 1955 forty-six-million military aid schedule." We imagine that if the President asked at some point, "What do you really think will happen in Ceylon and Burma?" Pibul would answer, "I can't even tell what's going to happen on the next golf hole." ... Linda Christian has won a divorce from Tyrone Power and gets 40 per cent of his income from "The Long Gray Line." ... She gets the custody of West Point five months a year, in a manner of speaking. ... Keith McHugh, head of the New York Telephone Company, has been named head of a Citizens Committee to Keep Streets Clean. ... It is going to make his face red if during the next Broadway parade they tear up and toss down the phone books as usual.

Ben Fairless retires from U. S. Steel on a $70,000 per year pension and becomes the first retired businessman in a position to split himself at least three for one. ... The Las Vegas bomb test was the most postponed event of the decade, not excluding the predicted business bust and the early 1955 ball games. ... (So who WANTS explosions?) ... My America —by Harry Boyd Putting World At Peace Is Simple Theoretically

Putting the world at peace and keeping it that way is simple enough, theoretically.

All you have to do is fix it so most people in every region have what they think they must have to live reasonably well.

That doesn't mean everything they may hanker for — only the things they feel they can't get along without.

But just appreciating what different peoples deem essential is more than the peacemakers have been able to manage so far. How would we ever steam up enough enthusiasm to help remote foreigners get what they think they have to have? It bores us to hear about the needs of other Americans, even — people who speak our language and belong to the same club.

Back in '32 I spent a day tramping around Rocky Mountain park to look at the Big Thompson reclamation project — which aims to take run-off water from the west side of the Continental Divide and pour it out to farmers on the east side. I listened to experts preach conservation of water resources until I was glassy-eyed.

Then I went home and filed the subject in the No-Skin-Off-My-Back pigeonhole.

Since then I have received impassioned propaganda from people out there who evidently have an idea that I can give them a lift on that proposition somehow.

More recently I have been getting hefty packets of pros and cons on the Echo Dam project in Utah — another water deal that is about a thousand miles too remote from my immediate worries to put me in any tither.

A couple of weeks ago I sat in the Senate press gallery and listened to half an hour of uninspired monologue on that same Echo Dam business. I had to leave to keep from going to sleep.

But a few days later I was in a plane over eastern Colorado. At 8,000 feet it was barely clearing the top of a dingy cloud of red dust whipped up from the land below.

Through occasional holes in the dirt you could see fields, roads and farmyards blanketed with what looked like heavy snow, except that it was brown. Hardly a trace of green showed anywhere.

That depressing panorama told me more eloquently than a trainload of propaganda why people out west keep harping on water as if their life depended on it. Obviously it does.

I am now in a mood to find out how they think I could help them get their water problems licked.

But I'm still a long way from being hopped up on straightening out whatever seems to be troubling the Mau Maus or the Timbucktoosers. And so are a lot of others I know.

No doubt that's why peace is such a long time coming.

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

A very rich lady loved to read a certain magazine because every month it gave the details of a rare new disease, which she immediately imagined she was suffering from herself. Several doctors made a handsome living out of this. Up in Maine for the summer, however, she suddenly ran into one old country doctor who wasn't having any of her nonsense.

"You couldn't possibly have this disease you say is destroying you," he told her gruffly. "In the first place, if you did have it, you'd never know it. It causes absolutely no pain or suffering whatever."

"Just as I suspected," crowed the rich lady triumphantly. "Those are my symptoms precisely!"

Meeting With Reds May Be Developing Group Learns

Washington, May 10 — A key Senate Committee has an authoritative tip on what may be in the offing for settling the Formosa crisis.

It is a possible parley with the Chinese Reds.

This significant information comes from a source in an excellent position to know about the matter — the official who handles arrangements for such conferences.

He is David Wainhouse, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for International Organization Affairs.

Wainhouse gave his revealing hint to the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the State Department's budget. He met privately with the group to explain a request for a special $500,000 contingency fund.

"This money is needed," Wainhouse told the senators, "to take care of international meetings which have not yet been definitely scheduled but which may take place in the coming months."

Instantly, Senator Harley Kilgore (D., W. Va.), chairman, asked, "Do these plans include a conference with Red China?"

"That's quite possible," replied Wainhouse.

"Can you give us any other information about the likelihood of such a meeting?" continued Kilgore.

"You will have to ask Secretary Dulles about that," said Wainhouse. "He is the only one who can discuss the matter."

"Then we will ask him," declared Kilgore. "We'll put it up to him when he gets back from Europe. If the State Department is making preparations for a possible conference with Red China, we want to know about it."

Note: Last week this column disclosed that Dulles told the bipartisan leaders of Congress, at the President's conference on the foreign aid budget, "What we are seeking in the Formosa area is a de facto cease-fire. ... We are in no hurry to enter into talks with the Chinese Communists."

Significant Expansion — The State Department is considerably increasing its staff in the Middle East.

More than 150 careermen are being sent to this explosive area to open new consulates and to enlarge existing ones.

A number of factors are behind this important development. Discussing them with congressional leaders, Assistant Secretary of State George Allen stressed particularly the following:

"We have good reason to believe the Russians are increasing their foreign service staffs throughout this region. This area, much of it bordering on Russia, has not been satelized and we want to keep it that way. ... Also, American oil companies now have a 50 percent interest in the Iranian oil consortium. This is the first time they've had such direct interest in these vital strategic resources, and that presents the State Department with greatly-increased responsibilities."

Foreign Flashes — United Nations authorities have private word that President Eisenhower will not fly to San Francisco next month for the 10th anniversary of the founding of the UN there. When he was invited several weeks ago, the President said he would consider the matter, but UN officials have been told he will be unable to make the trip.

The Justice Department is preparing a sensational treason case. Attorney General Brownell disclosed this during a talk with senators. He told them, "One of the attorneys of the Criminal Division is now abroad working on a treason case." Beyond this hint, Brownell gave no details. ... Senator Ralph Flanders (R., Vt.), who is close to the White House, will make a speech in London on June 16 that is sure to be closely watched in foreign chancelleries. The plain-talking New Englander will address the Royal Institute of International Affairs on the subject of "U. S. Policy on China." ... Sir Winston Churchill is honorary chairman of the Institute. ... Thailand Prime Minister Pibulsonggram used his visit to Washington to bestow a handsome gift on an old friend. The Thai leader and his wife presented Assistant Defense Secretary Struve Hensel with an engraved silver cigarette box with the Prime Minister's seal in the center, and a compact to match to Mrs. Hensel.

Vaccine Crackdown — The decision to withdraw the Cutter anti-polio vaccine was made at an all-night meeting of government health officials.

For hours these authorities wrestled with this explosive problem. In the end, they recommended to Surgeon General Leonard Scheele that the Salk vaccine made by the California concern be withheld pending further tests. Dr. Scheele immediately issued the order.

Speeding Highway Roulette

—by H. G. Heller

Speed is the number one killer on American highways because too many motorists think they can get away with a heavy foot on the accelerator "just one more time." In a way, the driver who speeds is taking just about the same chance as the crackpot who plays Russian Roulette. Maybe nothing will happen for a few spins, but eventually the result can be fatal.

The faster a motorist drives the greater are his chances of being killed if he has an accident.

Some people may argue that, in this jet-propelled atomic age, drivers are entitled to go faster to get where they are going sooner. Actually, driving at a higher speed doesn't make too much difference in the amount of time spent on a trip.

In a test in Kansas, two cars were sent out on a 255-mile trip over the same route. One car was driven at a top speed of 65, and it made the trip in 6 hours and 25 minutes. The other car was driven at a top speed of 50, and it made the trip in 6 hours and 50 minutes. Although the faster driver saved 6 per cent in time, he lost 11 per cent in gasoline consumption, 50 per cent in oil consumption — and he almost doubled the possibility of his having a fatal accident in addition to endangering the lives of others.

You owe it to yourself and your family to drive carefully. After all, the true test of driving skill is not the ability to drive a car as fast as it will go but is the ability to get yourself and your passengers to your destination safely.

Stroud Township To Buy $40,000 Worth Of Fire Equipment

Three Engines Included On Purchase List

STROUD TOWNSHIP Volunteer Fire Co. voted last night to buy more than $40,000 worth of new equipment.

Included in the purchase will be three new engines. They will replace "antiquated" apparatus now used by the company to fight fires throughout the widespread Stroud Township area.

One of the new engines will be a 750-gallon-a-minute Class A fire engine. The other two will be capable of pumping 500 gallons per minute.

The 750-gallon truck will be stationed at the Stroud fire house on Bridge St. outside Stroudsburg borough limits. A second will go to the Anomink fire station and the third will be kept at the Poplar Valley fire house.

All three will be purchased from the Seagraves Corporation. Each will be equipped with a separate high-pressure fog pump so that Stroud firemen will have the advantage of the latest, most modern developments in firefighting.

Ladders, hand extinguishers and other portable apparatus will be included on each truck.

Stroud's fire company will pay off the purchase price of the three new engines over a 10-year period, Harold Albert, chairman of the fire company board of directors said last night after the meeting.

Albert said the board anticipates arrival of the new equipment sometime before October. He noted that purchase of the new engines will allow the department to provide firefighting service better than has ever been available heretofore for the township.

The main reason the new purchase has been made possible, he said, is the outstanding cooperation and enthusiasm of the residents of the district. Support of fire department carnivals and special events has had a decisive effect in making the purchase feasible, Albert concluded.

Equipment now used by the company was purchased second-hand as a stopgap measure until new apparatus could be bought.

Sun Wears Halo Over Stroudsburgs

YOU MAY have thought you saw a rainbow around the sun last night at sunset. If you did, you were right as rain about the phenomenon even though scientists might quibble with you about the terminology.

Technically speaking, the colored light you saw around the sun and in the clouds toward sunset was a "halo."

Like most halos, this one was rare. Distinct, easily-defined light formations (with color) occur usually only in extremely cold latitudes such as the Arctic Circle.

Yesterday's sun-halo was about 45 degrees in diameter. It had several lightly-tinted colors.

The halo is caused by refraction of light passing through ice crystals floating in the air. For obvious reasons such halos, when they occur, are seen almost entirely in this latitude during winter months when there is more ice in the clouds.

Thomas Knepp, science instructor at Stroudsburg High School, who also saw the aerial light display, termed the halo "well-defined for this latitude". Knepp said he had last seen such a halo about "four or five years ago during the cold months of winter."

Retired Bangor School Teacher Dies

MISS ELIZABETH P. Jones, who retired two years ago after 50 years as a teacher in the Bangor schools, died suddenly yesterday at 1:45 p.m. at her home at the age of 67. A lifelong resident of Bangor, Miss Jones was born in the same house in which she died, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John T. Jones.

Miss Jones was graduated from Columbia University State Teachers College. She was a member of the Order of Eastern Star, the Business and Professional Women's Club, the Methodist Church and the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Win One class of that church.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Hattie Smith, with whom she resided, and a brother, David Jones, of Easton.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. and interment will be in St. John's Cemetery. Rev. W. L. Hackman will officiate.

Art Group Meets Tuesday Night

THE POCONO Mountains Art Group will hold a meeting tonight in the Wyckoff Recreation Hall, Sixth St.

Plans are for a model to be presented during the work session when members will sketch or paint from life.

Anyone interested in art is privileged to attend; the only requirement is that materials be brought along.

Further plans will be made for the outdoor art exhibit to be held at Court House Square, July 8 and 9. President Walter Wyckoff urges a large attendance.

Shortway To Receive Final Vote Today

HARRISBURG, May 9 (P)—The House tonight advanced into position for a final vote tomorrow on Senate-approved measures to permit the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to construct West Virginia and Stroudsburg-Sharon extensions.

There was no debate when the two came up for amendments. The proposals would not fix specific routes for the new legs of the toll road. It would simply authorize their construction if the commission finds through surveys that they are feasible.

The West Virginia extension would go from the vicinity of Pittsburgh to the West Virginia border to hook up with the partially completed West Virginia Turnpike.

The Stroudsburg-Sharon leg, called the Keystone Shortway, would cross North-central Pennsylvania in a line generally parallel to the original stretch of the superhighway.

If passed by the House both measures would have to be returned to the Senate for agreement on minor correctional amendments.

Bangor Board Lets Heating Contract

BANGOR—A bid of $29,901 to modernize the Bangor High School heating plant was accepted last night by the Bangor school district board of education. The heating contract was awarded Shook and Toth of Nazareth.

The board members announced that they expected the new system to be in operation by September 1. The change-over in the heating system includes the installation of two new boilers.

The board also voted to approve tentatively a $293,175.36 budget and to receive applications for a vacancy on the board created by the call to service with the armed services of Dr. Nicholas Caserio.

Leader Takes Verbal Swing

Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong) said the corporation maintains it must have complete title, including oil and gas rights, in the tract it will buy, in order to meet federal government contract requirements.

Pechan said word is now awaited from Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell at Washington on whether this is so. Meanwhile, further minor clarification amendments were placed in the bill tonight.

The exchanges between Leader and former Gov. Duff started when the governor, in a speech here last Tuesday night, blamed Duff for the state's financial dilemma through commitments made during Duff's administration as governor without providing taxes to finance them, including the state bonus for World War II veterans.

Duff replied in a statement that submission of a bond issue for the bonus in form of a constitutional amendment was strictly an affair of the Legislature that was not presented to him for action.

Leader said that Duff's "play was to hit and run" and that the Duff formula was to get the credit and fumble the check."

Duff said in his statement issued at Washington that Leader proposed "the most outlandish, the most unfair and the most unrealistic tax program in Pennsylvania's history."

Judge Defers Sentencing Easton Youth

JUDGE FRED W. Davis deferred sentencing of an Easton RDI youth who entered a guilty plea to three burglary charges in court yesterday.

Pleading guilty was Robert Anderson, involved in a series of three burglaries in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg last Feb. 23.

Prosecuting officer appearing in court was Travis Seese, East Stroudsburg borough officer. Seese described material taken from one of the burglarized service stations, including two rifles, a blow torch, $3.75 in cash and said damage was caused to equipment in the station.

In response to a question from defense attorney Joseph McCluskey, Seese told the court his investigation had shown that Anderson was "the lookout" during the burglaries. Nicholas Caserio, Easton RDI, was the second man allegedly involved in the burglaries.

McCluskey described Anderson as coming from "a highly respectable family . . . (and he was) in the upper one-tenth of his class" in high school.

Pleads Guilty To Charge

ORLEE OLICK, Portland, paid $300 fine and costs in court yesterday. Olick pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge.

He was given a suspended sentence by Judge Davis and was ordered to pay costs of prosecution and the fine. Olick was released following the payment.

The Portland man was arrested on Oct. 13, 1954 at about 4:15 p.m. by East Stroudsburg police.

Stroudsburg Woman's Club Install Officers For New Year; Travelers On Panel

New officers of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club were installed at the meeting yesterday afternoon in the Stroud Community House with Mrs. Foster Minnich, president of the Monroe County Federation of Woman's Clubs, paying tribute to the outgoing officers, and charging the new officers with their duties and the club members with their responsibilities.

Mrs. Claude W. Leister is the new president; Mrs. Roy Peterson, first vice president and welfare chairman; Mrs. Samuel O. Wells, second vice president and program chairman; Mrs. David Kohn, third vice president and hospitality chairman; Mrs. Edward C. Hess, recording secretary; Mrs. Ben I. Fansler, treasurer; Mrs. Edward C. Rahn, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield, retiring president, as director.

Mrs. Caulfield presided at the meeting, thanking the members and her staff for their cooperation during the two years of her administration. She also paid tribute to Mrs. Parke W. Kunkle, who has served as club officer for five years.

The theme for the year's programs "Extending Our Horizons" was climaxed with a panel travelogue featuring members who have traveled during the past year. Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff served as moderator of the informal panel discussion which included many of the lighter moments of the trips.

Means of transportation, adventures enroute, the flowers, customs, stores, food and people of many countries were touched upon by the panelists: Mrs. John Sanford, Mrs. J. H. Stoner, Mrs. A. L. Rhoads, Mrs. C. C. Scholla, and Miss Lucie Girard.

Each had different impressions, but they all agreed on the friendliness they had met in their travels abroad. Standards of living they found high in the Scandinavian countries and low in Italy and Spain.

The food they found good and in plentiful supply, for tourists at any rate. The customary American breakfasts were seldom found and the late dinner hour had tourists waiting at the dining room doors, the travelers reported, but they also reported coming to enjoy many new foods and flavors.

Church services in various countries and various languages, the opera in Rome and the ballet in Scandinavia; meeting a guide who had lived at Skitop; the problem of keeping the white clothing of Korea clean and crisp with primitive washing conditions; the specialty shops of Paris and China, Harrod's and Liberty Store in London; the Flower Mart in Amsterdam and the tulips of Holland all were brought out in the conversation.

In summing up, Mrs. Wyckoff asked "Have we broadened our horizons?" and answering herself, "Yes, if we have gained understanding of the people whom we have met, appreciation for their differences, a realization of our common interests, and the memory of friendships made despite differences of languages and of customs."

Mrs. Leister in closing the meeting reported on the state convention which she and Mrs. Wells had attended in Pittsburgh, where open clubs, educational programs, and community projects of worth were stressed as the essentials of a good woman's club. The General Federation of Woman's Clubs is the largest organization of women in the world, Mrs. Leister reported, and their influence is to be reckoned with. She cited the crusade against crime comics and its effect on the publishers.

Following the meeting, tea was served from a tea table, set with white lilacs and red tulips. Mrs. Clifford Heller, Mrs. Anthony J. Harlacher and Mrs. Charles E. Reinhart were co-chairmen of the hostess committee.

Joyce Westbrook Is Feted At Bridal Shower

Del. Water Gap—When Miss Joyce Westbrook was given a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Elam Gray, Friday night, it was kept a complete surprise to her through the help of her ten-year-old neighbor, John Akers. After supper, John asked Miss Westbrook to go for a walk. He checked time by her wrist watch every few minutes and got her back home on the appointed hour of 8 o'clock. A telephone call brought her to the home of Mrs. Gray to find her friends; and a table and floor piled high with gifts.

The shower had been planned by Mrs. Luther Markin and Mrs. Elam Gray. Those who attended were Mrs. Russell Buzzard, Mrs. Herbert Buzzard, Mrs. Harry Buzzard, Mrs. James Anthony III, Mrs. Thomas Lambert, Mrs. Harold Akers, Mrs. Harriet Carlton, Miss Stella Skidmore, Miss Luella Wickward, Mrs. Anthony DelCampo, Mrs. Earl Storm, Miss Vera Storm, Mrs. A. D. Davis, Miss Barbara Drake, Mrs. John Jennings, Jr., Mrs. Guy Kempster, Miss Gladys Foster, Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mrs. Walter Bryfogle, Miss Nellie Burd, Miss Mary Etta Gray, Mrs. M. C. Westbrook, Miss Lillian Stark, and the hostesses Mrs. Markin and Mrs. Gray.

Those who were unable to attend but sent gifts were Mrs. James Stacey, Mrs. Francis Drake, Mrs. H. J. LaBar, Mrs. M. E. Leffler, Mrs. C. B. Rosenkrans, Mrs. Edythe Giebe, Mrs. Fred Decker, Mrs. Richard Carlton, Mrs. Layton Hauser, Mrs. Richard Hauser, Mrs. Paul Morton, Mrs. Robt. Clarkson.

Miss Westbrook, who is to be married in June to Carlton R. Christman, is a member of the Presbyterian choir, has been a teacher in the Sunday School and is now its secretary, and has a large circle of friends in the borough. After the opening of the gifts, in which there were no duplicates, refreshments of varied cookies and fruit punch were served.

Bobbie Hartman Writes Of Strange Land In Africa

Miss Barbara Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hartman, of Cherry Lane, who is serving as pharmacist in a mission station in Africa, has had many adventures to write home about. The most recent one, and one of the calmest, was a visit to a strange section of the countryside.

In her own words, the story she wrote to her parents from Wembo Nyama, Congo Belge, Afrique: "We went on an adventure this week. Yesterday some of us took the car and off we went. We ate our lunch in a rest house along the road, and then went on to the big hole I mentioned going to see once before. It is hard to describe that hole. It is a place where the earth dropped in I guess. The edges are cliff-like, and it is full of what looks like ledges sitting end-wise up into the air.

"We wanted to go down into it but couldn't see any way that looked safe to try. An African boy came along while we were deciding which way to walk, so we asked him if any one could go down into it. He said they do go in to get red clay which they use to decorate the outside of their houses. He agreed to show us the place to go in. So we walked around the edge a ways, and then came to the place which he assured us was the place to enter. It didn't look much different from any other place to us, but we decided to try it. The boy went first and showed us the places to put our feet, and we started down. It really wasn't as bad as it looked. Part of the way we slid along on our seats, sort of. It was really worth the trouble though.

"I suppose it took us an hour to get down, but it was beautiful down there. The sand was all different colors, from white to yellow, pink, orange, lavender, blue, and purple and even black. A good bit of it was bright red. Then the moss grew on the one side of the shelf like places, so it is very colorful. We went down into one of the gullies until we could look up 100 feet or so of sheer ledge on both sides of us. Our guide suggested that we not go any further since there is quick sand in the bottom of the gullies.

"There is quite a bit of vegetation down there, and our guide told us there were monkeys and parrots there. We could hear the parrots, but didn't see any. He said no other animals can come down, because they couldn't get out again. It really was fun and we didn't have as much trouble getting back out again as we thought we would.

"This is one of the most awesome and lovely spots I have ever seen. The story has it that when the Arab campaign was on and a bad chief named Ngongo was chasing the people around this section, they hid in this hole and others like it, though not nearly as large. I could easily see how thousands could hide in this one. One of the girls wanted to bring back samples of all the different kinds of dirt, but we lost most of it on the way out. Then we put the rest on the floor of the car and proceeded to step all over it, so she didn't get much in the long run."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Theme of the Woman's Club year has been "Widening Our Horizons", and if I widen my horizons much more I'll probably split right down the middle trying to remember all the thoughts that other people seem to have.

The panel certainly had some good ones, and I wish I could have Miss Girard's talent for telling the tale of the first class carriage to the Great Wall of China. They tell me that the rehearsal the group held was even more hilarious than the program itself.

Anyway, they were very good. So was Mrs. Minnich's installation ceremony with such an impressive group of officers. Missing from the line-up was Mary Kunkle, but not from the thoughts of the members. Seems a shame when you've served a five-year apprenticeship for president to miss out on the climax and the glory.

However, you have to put your health first, and being president is not entirely a matter of presiding at meetings and talking bows, as I think we mentioned yesterday.

However, it does illustrate the wisdom of the first, second and third vice president stairway, since in most clubs it would be a calamity to have the president-to-be suddenly taken out of the running. Here everybody just moved up a notch and there they were.

Now if I could just have a sim-

WSCS Officers Installed At Mount Pocono

Mount Pocono — Installation marked the meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service on Tuesday night in the social rooms of the Methodist Church with Mrs. Charles James presiding.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Louis Ingersoll on "Be Ye Doers of the Word", stressing that what one has is to share not to retain, and God holds the individual responsible.

Mrs. James thanked the members for their cooperation during her tenure. The pastor, Rev. Edgar C. Hersh installed the new officers:

Mrs. Harry Taylor, president; Mrs. Alva Merwin III, vice president; Mrs. Fred Brodell, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Newhart, secretary; and Mrs. Louis Powers, promotion secretary. He outlined the duties and obligations of each office and closed the ceremony with prayer.

Mrs. Taylor upon assuming the presidency presented the outgoing president with a corsage and asked the cooperation of the members. She named the following committee chairmen and department secretaries:

Mrs. Patrick Horgan, Christian social relations and local church activities with Mrs. Walter Merwin, Mrs. Charles James, Mrs. Delores Hay, Mrs. Walter Earl Brock, Mrs. Lloyd Learn and Mrs. Louis Ingersoll.

Mrs. Winifred Hay, secretary of youth work; Mrs. H. John Davis, secretary, Children's Work; Mrs. Ingersoll, secretary of spiritual life; Mrs. Arthur Carey, secretary of literature and publications; Mrs. Neal Coberly, secretary of membership.

Mrs. Alvah Merwin II, secretary of the program committee will be assisted by Mrs. E. O. Headrick, Mrs. Berne Cramer, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Arthur Carey, and Mrs. Brian Walker Jr.

Mrs. Norman Fansen is secretary of the Methodist Home; the parsonage committee includes Mrs. Emma Merwin, Mrs. Herbert Sharbaugh, Mrs. Earl Brock and Mrs. Henry Cruise.

Mrs. Taylor announced the annual bazaar and ham dinner to be held August 13 and requested each member to bring one or more articles for the sale to the next meeting. Volunteers were also requested for the spring cleaning of the kitchen. They may call Mrs. Taylor for definite time.

Members were asked to remember two members who are ill: Mrs. Pay Stott at the home of her daughter at 145 Dewart St., Shamokin, and Mrs. Frank Bishop, a patient at the General Hospital, Stroudsburg.

A social hour followed with refreshments served by the hostess committee: Mrs. Sharbaugh, Mrs. Fansen, Mrs. Cruise, Mrs. Arthur Carey, Mrs. Leon Warren, of Glosper, N. J., was a guest at the meeting.

With the exception of a possible session showing how to care for sewing machines, this will be the last get-together of the local group until the Fall.

Commonwealth Opens Case Against Meixell

THE CASE OF The Commonwealth vs. Kenneth Meixell opened yesterday morning.

Meixell is charged with aggravated assault and battery. Prosecution was brought by Paul T. Gallo, Meixell's next-door neighbor.

Defense testimony took up the greater portion of the day in court yesterday. With Judge Fred W. Davis presiding, Gallo took the stand to testify on events allegedly leading up to the attack.

Gallo was injured in an argument over boundary lines between his home and Meixell's, testimony indicated. Gallo testified he went out in his backyard to talk with Meixell on Saturday, Feb. 20, 1954—the date of the incident in question.

After a verbal exchange, Gallo testified that he started to walk away from Meixell. The latter man then followed him and began hitting him with a piece of pipe, Gallo told the court.

Part of the conversational exchange when Gallo approached Meixell at first, Gallo testified, was to the effect that Meixell told him (Gallo) that he (Gallo) had depreciated the value of Meixell's house. Later comment from defense lawyer Forrest Mervine brought out that Gallo had sold the house to a "colored man."

Under cross-examination by Mervine, Gallo testified that he "never laid a hand on" Meixell but raised his left arm to break the fall of another blow from the pipe in the other man's hand.

During afternoon testimony, Dr. Claus Jordan, chief surgeon at Monroe County General Hospital, was the opening prosecution witness. Dr. Jordan testified he treated Gallo for a two-inch cut in the scalp on the aforementioned date.

X-rays showed a fragmented fracture of the elbow of Gallo's left arm, the surgeon said. Injuries to Gallo were a mild cerebral concussion, the scalp cut and the fractured elbow, he said.

Gallo had to have an operation on the elbow, he continued, in which wires were inserted to place the elbow back in proper healing position. Thereafter, Gallo had to have physical therapy three times each week when the cast was removed from his arm due to "limited use of his elbow," Dr. Jordan said.

District Attorney Elmer Christine tried to bring out in testimony the length of time necessary for Gallo to recover use of his arm. Mervine objected to this line of questioning, Judge Davis sustained the objection.

Next witness was Albert Bonglun, Gallo's brother-in-law who testified he accompanied Gallo from General Hospital before the incident occurred to Gallo's home. Gallo and Bonglun had been visiting Gallo's wife in the hospital, according to testimony.

Bonglun testified he stayed in the house until he heard a commotion outside, then ran out in time to see Meixell hitting Gallo with a piece of pipe. Bonglun said he yelled:

"Drop that pipe and fight like a man," at Meixell, then Meixell turned and ran away. Bonglun said he put Gallo into a car, stopped next door at Tony Gallo Jr.'s home (Gallo's brother) and the three men then went to the hospital.

Last prosecution witness was Tony Gallo Jr. who told the court he had been working in his cellar and on his sidewalk on the afternoon of the incident. On one trip from the cellar to the side of the house, he testified he looked across and saw Meixell brandishing a "shiny object" like a piece of pipe in the air.

Meixell was yelling "I'll kill you! I'll kill you!" Tony Gallo testified. A few minutes later, he said, Bonglun pounded on his (Tony's) door and the three men went to the hospital.

Two defense witnesses were called after an initial attempt to call Dr. Floyd Shafer as a defense witness by Mervine. This move was withdrawn after a sidebar conference between Christine, Mervine and Judge Davis. Shafer was excused.

One defense witness, Richard Staples, testified he had been at the hospital earlier on the afternoon of Feb. 20, 1954 while Gallo was visiting there. He, Staples, and Gallo had left the hospital at the same time, gone out to their cars and left at about the same time, Staples testified.

Staples testified further that Gallo's car—with Gallo driving and alone in the car—had followed him for a considerable distance. Then, Staples said, he had gone to buy a loaf of bread and had driven straight home.

When he got to his home—directly across the street from Gallo's house—Gallo's car was in front of the house, Staples testified.

Staples told the court he heard no disturbance outside his own house that afternoon and knew nothing about the "altercation" until the following day.

Judge Davis recessed the court following cross-examination of Staples by Christine.

Large Congregation Attends 75th Anniversary Celebration At Portland Presbyterian Church

PORTLAND — Friends and previous members joined on Sunday morning with the members of the Portland Presbyterian Church to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the church in 1880 by 39 residents of Portland.

The membership of the church, whose pastor is Rev. David R. Edwards, D.D., is 148.

The Rev. C. Wayland James of Lafayette College was the guest speaker and spoke on "The Church Foundation".

Following a solo, "The Lord's Prayer" by Mrs. Walter Emery accompanied at the organ by Ernest Michelsfelder, Stroudsburg, the new organ, chimes and amplifier were dedicated. Mrs. Walter Emery, organist, gave a short organ recital following the dedication.

The choir rendered "The Lord Is My Light" by Landon.

The chancel was a mass of flowers. Greetings were sent from the Portland Baptist Church members in the form of a large basket of chrysanthemums. Flowers were placed on the altar in memory of Dr. Charles E. Beck who was an elder in the church for 32 years and by the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society in memory of the three members who passed away the past year, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. Edward L. Kennedy and Mrs. R. L. Jones.

Pastors who have served the congregation since its organization on May 4th, 1880 are 1880-1886, Rev. J. Bailey Adams; 1886-1889, Rev. D. B. Rogers; 1889-1895, Rev. D. B. Adams; 1895-1899, Rev. A message from Howard Flagler, "Your Pharmacist"

OVER 2,000,000 MORE PEOPLE IN THE UNITED STATES, are alive, this year, because in 1954, Medical Science has raised the average life expectancy a whole year. Last year the average person lived 69.9 years.

THE BIBLE PROMISES US at least three score and ten years. There is no real reason why everyone should not live to be more than one hundred.

ALL YOU NEED IS FAITH, and the will to live properly. If you wait until you are seriously sick before calling a Physician, you may be taking years away from your life.

RESEARCH WORKERS, PHARMACEUTICAL CHEMISTS, PHYSICIANS AND PHARMACISTS, are all united in a great effort to help you to live longer, and to enjoy those added years. In our Pharmacy are the medicines and vitamins that can help to accomplish this purpose. But you must give your Physician the opportunity to help you more by calling him at the first sign of illness.

BASEBALL FANS of Monroe County had plenty to talk about during the weekend just passed, both from an offensive and defensive angle. Those spectators who witnessed ESSTC's power in a 14-6 verdict over Wilkes College won't forget the three home runs blasted by Guido DiToro for a long time. There may have been longer balls hit on the Normal Hill field and there may have been player in a single game in the past.

But, I doubt very much that if ever before has one player hit three homers in consecutive times at bat and in consecutive innings. Charley Shaw, ESSTC, also displayed plenty of power as he lashed a homer, triple and double, in addition to drawing a walk, in five trips to the plate. The show of batting strength enabled the Warriors, coached by George Ockershausen to pick up their fifth victory in six tries this season and fourth straight.

Residents of Gilbert and surrounding territories are still discussing the game ending catch made by Al Conklin, home team center fielder, against Readers on Sunday. Conklin, racing away from the plate, made a sensational grab of a towering drive to end the game with three Readers runners on base and the visiting squad only two runs off the pace. West End, long a candidate for the bottom portion of the Pocono Mountains League, has won both of its starts in the circuit this spring. Sunday's by a 6-4 mark.

Complaints are being heard about the short fence in right and center field at Moorestown. One section of the fence is reserved for home runs and the other for doubles. Both four baggers and two-ply wallpops will be a dime a dozen on the home field of the newest Pocono Mountains League entry if this condition is allowed to continue. There were five homers and seven doubles hit on Sunday at Moorestown was scoring a 20-13 victory over Bushkill.

Saylorsburg held a flag raising ceremony on Sunday, prior to dropping a 10-6 decision to Lake Harmony in the 11th frame. The flag was donated by the Junior Order of Mechanics, of Easton. Jack Brewer made the presentation and the flag was accepted by Morris Smickley, president of the Saylorsburg club. The Broadheadsville Boy Scouts were present and a flag salute followed the presentation. Saylorsburg was the second Pocono Mountains League club to hold a flag raising ceremony this season. West End having held the same sort of celebration on opening day.

Howard Everitt, who won his second straight Shawnee Invitation Golf Tournament championship on Sunday, is one of the mildest mannered and most agreeable golfers this scribe has ever witnessed. He talks to spectators and displays a continuous smile, regardless of how the match is progressing. Even while losing three holes, before coming up with a rally to defeat Ellis Taylor, Wilmington, Del., on Sunday. Howard kept up a steady bit of chit-chat and never once lost his famous smile.

Stan Dudas, likeable assistant golf pro at Shawnee Inn and Country Club, exhibited a slightly different grip on his clubs while winning the four-way playoff for the Cerebral Palsy-Iron Rock Tournament championship at Pennsauken, N. J., on Sunday. Stan was unable to put the first finger of his left hand on the club due to a severe cut on that digit. The accident occurred while Dudas was cutting score cards for the recent Invitation tournament.

Ben Miller, former baseball, basketball and football star at Stroudsburg High, is expected to return home on a furlough on Sunday. Ben is now stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga. Art Wall, well known golf pro who carries the Pocono Manor name on the professional tour each year, won $225 in the Colonial Open which ended in Fort Worth, Texas, on Sunday. Wall finished the grind in 295 strokes.

Bill Kunkle, well known in Lehigh Valley baseball circles, hit two grand slam homers in the first week of the Piedmont League season. Kunkle, who attended a baseball school held by the Phillies at Gordon Giffels Field a few years back, is currently holding down the shortstop berth for Lynchburg. Pocono High will be out to continue the longest baseball winning streak in Monroe County today when the charges of Harry Werkheiser oppose Tobyhanna Township, at Pocono Pines. Pocono has won six games without a loss this season and is currently pacing the Monroe County League.

Stroudsburg Rallies To Decision Whitehall, 11-10

Tretheway's Bunt In Eighth Decides

STROUDSBURG High kept its pennant hopes alive in the Lehigh Valley Baseball League yesterday by squeezing out an 11-10 verdict over Whitehall in the cold, windy weather that hung over Gordon Giffels Field.

A half frozen crowd watched little Barry Tretheway squeeze home Paul "Doc" Lim, co-captain of the Mountaineers, in the gloom of the eighth inning, after the two arch rivals had battled through the regulation seven frames to a 10-10 deadlock.

In a torrid struggle of base hits and glaring defensive errors the two Lehigh Valley League clubs fought for three hours before the Mountaineers came up with their third straight victory and third in four circuit outings.

Stroudsburg led 2-0 at the end of the first and 3-2 after two innings. The Mountaineers picked up two more in the bottom of the third, after Whitehall mixed solid base knocks with at least four errors to plate five markers in the visiting half of the same frame.

Ronnie Edjys batted for Roger Ray, Stroudsburg's starting hurler, in the third and Don "Ockie" Setzer hurled the remainder of the distance, stopping the Zephyrs cold in the fourth after the visiting club had loaded the bases with nobody out.

Stroudsburg, paced at the plate by Lim, Dave Nevil and Doug Nichols, began its uphill fight with three counters in the third and two in the home half of the seventh, after Whitehall had assumed a 10-8 edge with three counters, the only ones score off the good pitching of Setzer, in the seventh.

The Mountaineers, who were on the brink of defeat on several occasions during the course of the game, came back with two counters in the bottom of the seventh and then went on to win with a singleton in the bottom of the over-time session.

Lim opened the frame with his second hit and Nevil followed with another safe blow. Wallie Adelman walked to fill the sacks and then all hands were safe when Tretheway, who entered the game in the seventh, beat out a bunt and Lim raced home with the deciding counter.

Stroudsburg will attempt to make it four straight today when the Mountaineers tangle with Emmaus on the latter's home field, at 4 p.m. Frank "Buddy" Radler is slated to do the hurling for the visiting Stroudsburg club.

Orioles Sell Maxwell To Tigers

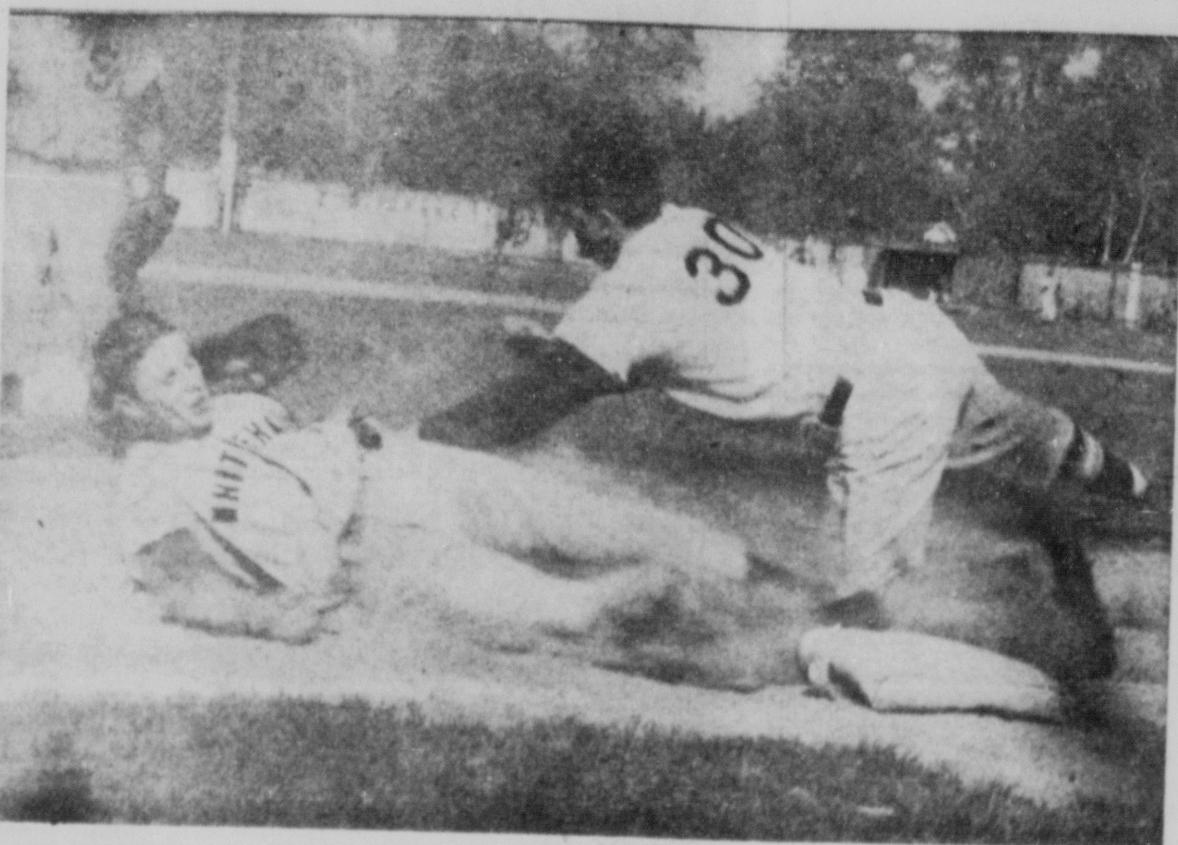

BALTIMORE, May 9 (P)—The Baltimore Orioles today sold outfielder Charlie Maxwell to Detroit for the waiver price.

Maxwell's departure, following by a few hours that of pitcher Bob Alexander, who was optioned to Portland, Ore., on 24-hour recall, left the Birds with 28 players. That includes Duane Pillette, whose 30-day disability listing expires simultaneously with the league cutdown deadline—midnight Wednesday.

Babe Ruth Loop To Hold Tryouts

STROUDSBURG-Barrett Babe Ruth League will hold its final tryout session for new players at Gordon Giffels Field today at 6 p.m., it was announced last night by Gene Martin, co-chairman of the circuit.

Martin urges that all managers be present so selection of teams can be made in the near future.

*CLOSE DECISION—Sam Quigg, Whitehall second baseman, is shown above being tagged out by Dick "Pickles" Hintze, third baseman for the Stroudsburg club when the former tried to advance from second to third on a passed ball in yesterday's game. Stroudsburg went on to win by an 11-10 count.

Governor Threatens To Outlaw Boxing

HARRISBURG, Pa., May 9 (P)—Gov. George M. Leader was re-presented today as ready to outlaw boxing in Pennsylvania if there is no reasonable explanation of the reported drugging of a Philadelphia boxer.

Sen. John H. Dent (D—Westmoreland) made the statement in the wake of a furore arising from the inability of Harold Johnson to answer the bell for the third round of a nationally televised bout at Philadelphia.

Almost simultaneously, the governor called upon his three-member State Athletic Commission to meet with him tomorrow on the results of the Friday night bout.

Although the governor had no comment on his plans for tomorrow's meeting, Dent told the Senate that an answer will be sought to the reported drugging.

"If it (the answer) does not appeal to the governor as being and up and up answer to this incident . . . I am sure that the governor in his bold and forthright manner will close the sport down long enough for the people of Pennsylvania to again have confidence in those who participate in it."

Dent said he spoke to the governor earlier in the day.

The three-member commission, headed by one-time football great, James H. Crowley, earlier described as "off base" reports that medical tests showed Johnson was not drugged before his bout with heavyweight Julio Mederos.

Commissioner Alfred M. Klein termed "inaccurate" anonymous reports that the tests showed Johnson collapsed in his corner after the second round.

Dr. Alfred Ayella Jr., commission physician, said at the same time that not all tests on Johnson have been completed. One series, Ayella said, showed the fighter was not under the influence of common drugs but that further examination for drugs that cannot be readily detected is still continuing.

The big slugging outfielder can be taken off the restricted list at his own request under Rules 15 and 16B, the Sox said.

Cavarretta Quits As Active Player

CHICAGO, May 9 (P)—Phil Cavarretta, first baseman who joined the Chicago White Sox last year after 20 years with the Cubs, resigned today as an active baseball player.

General Manager Frank Lane said the veteran infielder will remain with the White Sox organization as a scout, operating out of Dallas, Tex.

East Stroudsburg Risks Mark In Game Against Bangor High

EAST Stroudsburg High School will attempt to protect its position atop the Lehigh-Northampton Baseball League today when the Warriors invade the home domain of a strong Bangor High contingent at 4 p.m.

The Cavaliers have swept to victory in their first four games, but in Bangor stacked up against one of the toughest clubs in the circuit, even though today's host now sports a record of two victories and a pair of setbacks.

Bangor will pitch either Larry Raph, a senior, or Gary Strauss, a junior, against the Cavaliers, while the visiting Eastburg nine will counter with hard-working Bill Sommers, a right hander.

Raph and Strauss are two of the finest southpaw hurlers in the Lehigh-Northampton League at the present time.

Facing either one of the southpaws will be an East Stroudsburg lineup of Co-captain Charley "Snook" Little, catcher; Bill Pen-syl, first base; Dick Gray, second base; Jerry "Moose" Zeman, shortstop; Gene Plaza, third base; Helmut Gartner, left field; Tom Michaels, center field, and Curt Hickman, right field.

Bob "Red" Kupiszewski, regular East Stroudsburg left fielder, is still on the shelf with a badly sprained ankle.

Feller's Record Faces Test

NEW YORK, May 9 (P)—Bob Feller's major league strikeout record, unchallenged for eight years, faces its stiffest test this season in the strong arms of Cleveland teammate Herb Score and Bob Turley of the New York Yankees.

Score, the lefthanded rookie who set up an American Assn. strikeout record of 330 in 1954, is ahead of Feller's 1946 pace, when he fanned 348 American League batters in 372 1-3 innings. Turley is just a bit behind Feller's rate.

In his first five starts in 1955, Feller fanned 48 batters in 43 innings. Score, in five games covering 41 innings, has struck out 50. Turley has whiffed 46 in 45 innings.

Ted Leaves Active List

BOSTON, May 9 (P)—Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin said today slugging Ted Williams' name will be taken off the active list and placed on the restricted list on Wednesday.

Major league teams must cut down rosters to 25 active players plus servicemen by midnight, May 11.

Commission Adjourns Ring Hearing

NEW YORK, May 9 (P)—The New York State Athletic Commission today adjourned its hearing on the possible blacklisting of welterweight Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., until May 19, due to the absence of Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, and other key witnesses.

After he learned that Norris would be unable to make an appearance tomorrow due to press of business in Chicago, Chairman Julius Helfand called a 10-day recess. Helfand said he also regarded Bill Daly, former manager of Martinez, and Angelo Pucci, former assistant matchmaker at St. Nicholas Arena, both absent, as key witnesses.

Investigating reports that Martinez had been blacklisted by other managers after he split with Daly, the commission opened a series of hearings last Friday. Daly is treasurer of the International Boxing Guild.

Logart Wins Sixth Straight

NEW YORK, May 9 (P)—Isaac Logart, a stablemate of Kid Gavilan, won his sixth straight bout tonight when he pounded out a rough-and-tumble verdict over Ludwick Lightburn of British Honduras at St. Nicholas Arena. Logart weighed 142½, Lightburn 138½.

Although the decision was unanimous, Logart knew he had been in a fight when it was all over. For every good shot he got in, Lightburn came right back with one of his own.

With all the blows that were struck, in fact, it was a wonder there were no knockdowns. The pair went at it hammer and tongs for the full 10 rounds.

Judge Harold Barnes and Referee Mark Conn gave it to Logart 5-4-1, while Judge Nick Gamboli had it 6-4. The Associated Press had Logart ahead 5-3-2.

Twin City Uses Big Inning To Down Besecker's Diner, 12-7

TWIN CITY TV moved into a first place tie with Coates Paper, formerly Empire Box, last night with a 12-7 verdict over Al Besecker's Diner at Stroudsburg Playground.

The winning contingent put the game on ice with a big six-run spurt in the top of the fourth inning, although outplayed at times in other portions of the contest.

Basilo Nears Dream Of Fight Goal

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 9 (P)—Welterweight challenger Carmen Basilio—with a dream within reach and no intention of letting it slip from his grasp again—is in serious training for his sell-out title fight with champion Tony DeMarco here a month from tomorrow.

"I'm not going to walk into that ring with the idea I'm gonna lose," Basilio said today as he sat on a shower-room bench and tapped his hands for a vigorous workout.

Speaking with quiet determination, Basilio sized up Boston's DeMarco this way:

"He must be a pretty good fighter—he's the champion. He's a pretty good puncher—he stopped Saxton and Gavilan couldn't do that. He throws a lot of punches. 'This isn't gonna be an easy fight but I intend to win. I'm working hard. It's easy to work hard when you've got something to go for.'"

Basilio is noted for being a hard worker. He says he has dreamed of becoming champion "since I was just a little boy."

McNiece Held To Draw

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 9 (P)—Billy McNiece of Islip, N. Y., and Tony Johnson of New York, fought to a draw tonight in 10 rounds of fierce action at Eastern Parkway Arena. McNiece weighed 174, Johnson 172.

A 3-1 favorite, McNiece had to come from behind to earn the split with his muscular and less known rival.

Judge Charley Ashortell voted for McNiece, six rounds to four, while Referee Al Berl gave each five rounds but cast his ballot for Johnson on points, 7-6. Judge Joe Agnello had it exactly even, giving each five rounds and five points.

Phillies Release Baker

PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (P)—The Philadelphia Phillies today announced the unconditional release of veteran infielder Floyd Baker and plans to option infielder Luis Ortiz to a minor league farm club.

Williams' Wife Granted Divorce

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Ted Williams' wife, Doris, was granted a divorce in Circuit Court today by the former Boston Red Sox slugger said he had not made up his mind about returning to baseball.

There have been reports that the $100,000-a-year star would rejoin the Red Sox if his wife agreed to a lump sum settlement.

Judge George E. Holt approved Mrs. Williams' divorce petition but put off his decision on the alimony.

Williams' income tax returns for the last two years were placed in evidence, along with a statement of his net worth, and the judge said he would study them before arranging a settlement.

"I'm not sure if I'll play baseball," Williams told newsmen after the 30-minute hearing in the judge's chambers.

Mueller Nears Record For Hitting In Consecutive Games

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Striking Don Mueller's only three games shy of the New York Giants' record for consecutive game hitting today as the rate he's going he could well threaten the National League mark.

Mueller, who leads the majors in hits with 40, has hit safely in his last 21 games, missing only the Giants' opener on April 12. Freddie Lindstrom set the Giants' streak mark of 24 in 1930 and Tommy Holmes is the league's record holder with 37 in 1945.

Mueller's pace has been phenomenal. He has collected 14 safeties in his last 27 times at bat and raised his average to .421 while challenging St. Louis' Bill Virdon, who leads with .424. Virdon shows only 59 official at bats compared to Mueller's 95.

Rip Repulski of the Cardinals gained three points to 267 in games last week to remain in third place. Brooklyn's Roy Campanella is fourth with .353 followed by Gene Freese of Pittsburgh with .345.

In the American League, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit moved up to challenge Bill Skowron and Vic Power, both sidelined with leg injuries.

Skowron is the pacesetter with a .451 batting mark. The Yankee first sacker had 23 hits in 51 trips before he sustained a pulled leg muscle two weeks ago. Power, Kansas City's first baseman, is second at .415.

Meanwhile, Kaline collected 12 hits in 31 at bats last week (.387 pace) and holds down third place with a .407 average.

Carl Furillo and Duke Snider of Brooklyn's slugging Dodgers are backsliding for the National League's home run lead with eight apiece.

NOTICE TO COAL DEALERS
The Board of Directors of the School District of the Borough of Stroudsburg will receive sealed proposals for contracts for delivery of approximately three hundred (300) tons of No. 1 or Grade A Fresh Mined Anthracite Coal, 2,000 lbs. to the ton, delivered to the High School Building on Main Street, and to the Borough of Stroudsburg, at the earliest date or dates upon which storage space becomes available in the school buildings.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid a certified check or cash in the amount of $100.00, to be held as a performance bond in the amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) within ten days after the contract has been awarded, and upon failure to execute a contract in full, the previous award shall be void.

All bids are to be in the hands of the Superintendent at his office in the High School Building not later than 8:00 p.m. of May 12, 1955.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

LEGAL NOTICE
Pursuant to Section 2 of the Act of June 25, 1917, P. L. 1145, as amended by the Act of May 9, 1919, P. L. 588, that the School District of Pocono Township, Monroe County, Pa., intends to adopt a resolution levying a $10 per capita tax for school purposes, a public hearing will be held on 6:15 at 8:00 P. M.

The reason which in the judgment of the Board of Directors necessitates the tax is that the present revenues of the District are insufficient to pay salary increases of the teaching staff and to cover the cost of repairs and maintenance of the school buildings.

The Board of Directors estimates that the sum of $10 per capita tax is sufficient to cover the above mentioned expenses.

Band, Chorus To Present Annual Concert

KRESGEVILLE — The annual combined band and chorus concert will be held in the Polk Township High School auditorium on Friday at 8 p. m.

This concert promises to be the school's most ambitious program in many years. Supervising Principal Harry T. Young said, Edmund J. Kozlowski, band and chorus director, reports that Barner Swartz of Millerstown, will be the guest conductor for the Polk High School Band. Mr. Swartz' Greenwood Joint High School Band holds the Class C state championship. This band was the only one in the state in this class to be given a superior rating.

The concert will consist of marches, overtures, novelties and old favorites.

The Junior and Senior choruses will sing under the direction of Mr. Kozlowski. The vocal renditions will be old and new favorites.

Delaware Water Gap

WATER GAP Boy Scouts did a fine piece of work at soil and water conservation and re-forestation recently when they planted one thousand young red pine and European larch trees at the borough water-shed on the former Shimp property on Mt. Minis. They worked under the supervision of scoutmaster Henry Kulp, assistant masters John Kulp and William Townsend of the Stroudsburg, committeemen Walter Bryfogge and Francis Drake, water commissioner Layton Hauser, and Councilman Richard Hauser. The seedlings had been supplied by the state. The violent wind storms of the past two winters had devastated that mountain section of its fine, big timber.

Dr. and Mrs. Eldoris Palmer, the former Beatrice Kistler, of Troy, N. Y., who visited Mrs. Palmer's mother, Mrs. Robert Kistler, for several days recently, were in Water Gap again last week to spend some hours with Mrs. Palmer's uncle, John Bedford.

Miss Dorothy Meyers was the soloist last week at the service of the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lettler were in New York City recently to see their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gardner off by plane for a Florida vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Elam Gray, Mary Etta and John Gray, made an automobile trip to Wilmington, Del., on a recent afternoon, returning the following day. The Grays were called to Delaware to see a friend who had been very ill in the hospital.

Water Gap had two residents in General Hospital the first week of May: Mrs. Harry Hartman and Frank Decker.

Miss Gertrude Haymer and Frank Bishong celebrated birthdays on May 1. Arthur Barnes had a birthday May 2. Mrs. Jean Barnes Gearhart and Mrs. Francis Drake marked birthdays Wednesday, May 4. Rev. Luther Markin observed a birthday Friday, May 6. Other May birthdays are: William Heitler III, the 8th; JoAnn Jennings, Ann Chamberlain, Beverly Robinson, May 9; Robert Heller, Lucille Williams, May 10; Mrs. Floyd Heller, Mrs. Estella Bishong, Russell Shellenberger, May 12; John Storm, May 13; Mrs. Orlan Lambert, May 15.

Posture Week Is Observed

SCHOOLS, churches and other civic organizations were invited by Drs. John A. Sweeney and Elwood S. Field, local co-chairmen of the Good Posture Week activities, to join the chiropractic profession in the observance of National Good Posture Week, this week.

Emphasis on correct posture in Monroe County public schools was endorsed by John C. Little, county superintendent of schools, and Walter H. Sebring, assistant superintendent.

Posters and posture charts for use in the hygiene classes of the schools were furnished by the local chiropractic group.

Five years ago, when I decided to run for Councilman in the First Ward of Stroudsburg, I said in the newspaper—and the record will show—that I stood for tax protection and better conditions for borough employees.

And I lived up to those statements! During these five years the borough of Stroudsburg has not increased the taxes a single mill!
